

33. “नियति/Predestination”

In the current present time, electric cremation is particularly the only best – healthy means for the benefit of both nature and humanity – without the interference of filthy religious rituals and ceremonies – now think about this profoundly and seriously, while keeping this in mind always behave decently “particular soul incarnated in this rare human form”! In ancient times human population was scarce and natural vegetation was dense, cremating human remains with wood seemed fair idea in a manner that people used sandalwood. As the population grew and cities grew the vegetative cover has declined immensely over last few years, thereby gradually reducing all forest cover and making many forests and wildlife extinct. Therefore the use of wood for cremation makes no sense in the current times, which only causes a strain on current finite natural resources. Another problem associated with this the generation of pollution which adds to already over polluted natural resources like air and water. In the context of these current dire circumstances electric cremation - without the use of filthy religious rituals and ceremonies - seems to be the best choice for everyone involved. Why, because the soul has already left the body and gone wherever her life's choices deeds have taken her - and there is nothing your various actions-rituals-ceremonies-deeds etc. - etc. can do or benefit her - and all that's left is body of earthly matter - and the most decent thing to do is to just cremate it in a best possible way (electric cremation). Holding on to person's belongings and body only hinders the souls the progress. The best approach is to just cremate both (body and intimate belongings) electrically and disperse the ashes in flowing water source for minimal carbon footprint. Another problem plaguing the cremation system is the business of graves and tombs, which has created a multi-billion dollar industry everywhere on earth. With the huge population explosion the living space for humans has decreased exponentially and has already caused massive deforestation worldwide. The huge areas covered with tombs and graves put further strain on the already finite sources, meanwhile the business associated with these rituals prey upon the people by hooking on to their emotional state. Second point that no one seems to have ever noticed is the problem of ghosts and spirits that plague such sites because the soul does not want to let go and gets stuck there in her past desires and lust, which never got fulfilled. This system of cremation becomes even a bigger catastrophe in current time of pandemic, where micro-organism can remain in an passive state and become a source of problem for later generations.

These obscene and squalid religious activities – rituals – ceremonies etc. keep the living beings engrossed in these repetitive states and the soul never realizes when she has lost her unique and exceptional birth to such filthy proclivities.....! The filthy religious efforts or ceremonies or acts or rituals refer to various repetitive activities that we undertake under the pretence or disguise of pleasing our various gods – teachers – gurus – sadhgurus – or various other great diverse people etc. etc. in a regularly particular manner. Many great souls – gurus – teachers etc. etc. earned their enlightenment and tranquillity by their own hard work and ascended to upper regions. The only thing they left us is their teachings and their zest and penchant for aligning as one with god. Only following their teachings and creating that zest inside ourselves will help us. Participating in various activities involving celebrating their various life milestones such as birthdays – death anniversaries – worshiping various idols – stones – buildings – places – gurus – sadhgurus – graves – tombs – mazars – places of importance etc. etc. will not help our most particular endeavour in any way . But this will disorient us from our most important life goal – and we will not even realize when our life gauge has run out while participating in these obscene and squalid predispositions.....! If a school going student instead of understanding and following the teacher's teachings and studying from notes – starts worshipping notes or the teacher himself – he will most certainly fail the class even if he keeps flawless attendance for all his life! All these obscene rituals or these particular greatest of great personalities cannot even cure a small gift in your back pocket (just guess what gift that might be ----- constipation), then forget about how they will erase your horrifying – infinite sinful deeds from your past and grant you salvation.....? Your “predestination” is an exceptionally continuous endeavour to reach your own particular special house – and when this particular effort will be robbed away from you, no one knows.....! Even the greatest fortune tellers and sooth sayers will only prove to be great fools since time immemorial.....! You have to continue your own exceptional endeavour (towards your own particular home) while performing your responsibilities in a particularly utmost sincere manner.

Completely give up the “accumulation” – and learn the virtue of sharing and distribution – for the rest of your most essential journey. Whatever various and specific objects that you have accumulated by various and different ways have either “good or bad” predestination fixed in a certain manner – which only you will have to either experience or suffer – either now or later – for all of eternity – howsoever – by any means – most certainly nor less or more, but only and only you with all your acquaintances and relatives according to your relationship behaviour.....! Any particular interference in this is impossible by any means. Even if they are any type of means – power – capability or god because god's absolute power is distinct and determinate in a most certain manner for all of eternity.....! Over accumulation of any kind is a crime against society and humanity. Some kind of deposit is always required against various acts such as travesties of nature etc. etc. but accumulation after that becomes nothing but crime. Sharing is a virtue that will help the being for a long time. Any kind of religious chanting or austerity – rituals – ceremonies – acts – etc. etc. will not work today as lives are incredibly short today and the processes involved have been long forgotten and lost and the presence of true guide or teacher is extinct. Only the sharing of your overabundant resources will help most certainly. Even if you have accumulated your resources in a most particular positive and decent manner, you cannot take it all with you after your death – only your deeds or actions will go with you – either positive or negative. This overabundance will get bequeathed to you successors – relatives – friends – acquaintances etc. who will fight over them for their share and indulge in revelry and debauchery – promptly sharing a cut of their negative misdeed with you most certainly every time.

The only obstacles always present certainly in your path will be your fascinations – endearments – illusions and delusions. The only way you can save yourself from this illusive and deceitful web is by earing your humanity – which is only possible by exclusively dedicating yourself to your “prime base” in a most sincere manner – which has no particular shape-form-name-colour.....! And if there is something then it's your own self only which is nothing else aside from that prime base only – therefore searching or looking for it only and only inside yourself, is your own particular predestination! And you get misguided and disoriented from your own rare and extraordinary journey by various new particular ways, in this particularly unique human incarnation by searching – looking – earning hypocrisy outside in various religious chanting – religious austerity – religious abstinence – pilgrimages – vows – etc. etc. – worshipping the dead – doing or singing chants! You have already lost this scarce chance and after how many infinite eons you will again get it, nobody knows – all you will do is beg for this rare chance again and again meanwhile suffering and yearning by repeatedly dying and living in infinitely grossly terrible incarnations.....! You have earned this predestination by your own will – by carefully contemplating and achieving it with your great finesse.....! Now only pray for your own good –

ॐ एक ओंकार सतिगुर प्रसादि – तेरे भाणे सर्वत दा भला ।”

ॐ कर्म – धर्म पाखण्ड जो दी सेह –तिन जम – जगती लूटेह ।

निर्बाण कीर्तन गावोह करते का –निमख सिमित – जित छूटेह!”

Ceaseless chanting (apparently self-generated non-stop)=
⇒naam – word – amrit – elixir – sound – noise – tao – lagos – kalma – knowledge – pilgrimage – voice – guru – satguru – tune various etc. etc. ॐ साचा तीर्थ नाम हैं – नाम शब्द विचार अन्तर जान हैं.....!” =
⇒Is a rare and unique – filled with particular mysteriously infinite melodies – creating particular super unique bright and dazzling lights – full of intoxicating unique fragrances – is a particularly divine and greatly able sound.....! Makes you experience past – present – future from A to Z Vis a Vis in a practical manner – is continuously assimilating everything in a most particular manner! Which can never be taken – nor be ever distributed because “the prime base or this” self generates itself continuously – always engaged in a particularly personal reflexion or meditation in its inner self continuously forever!

Then ponder that how can you ever think that with your particularly own partial, imperfect and abject deeds – actions – rituals can ever try to know it in a partially manner – forget about ever reaching him.....?

- “* ज्ञान न गल्ली ढुंडिये – कथना करड़ा सार ।
- * नाम के धारे खण्डं ब्रह्मण्ड।
- * शब्दे ही ते सब कुछ होआ.....।
- * शब्द गुरु सुरत धुन चेला.....।
- * वाणी गुरु – गुरु हैं वाणी – विच वाणी अमृत सारे ।
- * अंतर ज्योति निरन्तर वाणी – साचे साहिव सिऊ लिव लाई ।
- * गुरवाणी कहे सेवक जन माने प्रतख गुरु निसतारे (केवल रागमई प्रकाशित सुगधित आवाज़ विशेष)?
- * अमृत हरि का नाम हैं – देही में इस का विश्राम!”

Therefore think that how can you ever find him outside by your various deeds when he is present inside yourself – in a self-absorbed – self reflecting manner. Who are you to think that you can chant-meditate upon him when he himself is continuously holding the whole creation in his thoughts – reflecting and concentrating upon its each and minute or minuscule particle perpetually. Therefore searching or looking for it only and only inside yourself, is your own particular predestination. And he himself is nothing but ceaseless melodious illuminated scented voice (केवल रागमई प्रकाशित सुगंधित आवाज विशेष) which is ever-present everywhere because everything is only but he himself and he is everything. This ceaseless melodious illuminated scented voice is referred everywhere as naam - word - amrit - elixir - sound - noise - tao - lagos - kalma - knowledge - pilgrimage - voice - guru - satguru - tune various etc. etc. and is source of everything . It is the beginning and it is the end. This itself is the soul's guide and all soul has to do is to dedicate itself to its prime base/ ceaseless melodious illuminated scented voice in a most dedicated and sincere manner. There is no need for external idols - stones - buildings - places - gurus - sadhgurus - graves - tombs - mazars - places of importance etc. etc. since it's an exclusive relationship between god/naam/guru and soul. This ceaseless melodious illuminated scented voice is the guide and is ever present inside yourself between your two eyes. Where it beats in a ceaseless unending manner waiting for soul to leave all worldly dispositions behind and embrace this true predestination. This ceaseless melodious illuminated scented voice is the only true guru because it is ever-present - it itself is all past-present-future - everything else is just false delusions of grandeur. The only way the soul can redeem itself is by following the truth and guidance of ceaseless melodious illuminated scented voice. Otherwise all the being can do is to lose its precious human form to filthy religious proclivities and then relent and suffer in infinite horrible inferior forms again and again for eternity - whose end nobody knows.....!
